In Republic Under Assault, Lee Smith mounts a scathing indictment of the left's relentless assault on America's founding principles. Smith argues that the left is engaged in a systematic campaign to undermine the republic and replace it with a socialist utopia. He documents the left's attacks on free speech, religious liberty, private property, and the rule of law. Smith also exposes the left's efforts to indoctrinate our children in schools and universities.

Republic Under Assault is a wake-up call for all Americans who cherish their freedom and the rule of law. Smith's meticulously researched and passionately argued book is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the threats facing our nation.

The Left's Assault on Free Speech

The left's assault on free speech is one of the most insidious threats to our republic. The left has sought to silence conservative voices on college campuses, in the media, and even on social media. They have used threats, intimidation, and violence to prevent conservatives from speaking out. This assault on free speech is a direct attack on the First Amendment and the very foundation of our democracy.

The Left's Assault on Religious Liberty

The left's assault on religious liberty is another major threat to our republic. The left has sought to marginalize religion in the public square and to impose their secular values on all Americans. They have attacked religious institutions, discriminated against religious believers, and even tried to ban religious speech. This assault on religious liberty is a direct attack on the First Amendment and the very foundation of our democracy.

The Left's Assault on Private Property

The left's assault on private property is yet another major threat to our republic. The left has sought to undermine the right to own property and to redistribute wealth through taxation and regulation. They have attacked the concept of private property and have even called for the abolition of private property. This assault on private property is a direct attack on the Fifth Amendment and the very foundation of our democracy.

The Left's Assault on the Rule of Law

The left's assault on the rule of law is the most dangerous threat to our republic. The left has sought to undermine the rule of law and to replace it with their own arbitrary and capricious standards. They have attacked the police, the courts, and the rule of law itself. This assault on the rule of law is a direct attack on the very foundation of our democracy.

The Left's Indoctrination of Our Children

The left's indoctrination of our children is the most insidious threat to our republic. The left has sought to indoctrinate our children in schools and universities with their own radical ideology. They have attacked traditional values, undermined our history, and promoted their own secular worldview. This indoctrination of our children is a direct attack on the future of our nation.

Republic Under Assault is a Wake-Up Call

Republic Under Assault is a wake-up call for all Americans who cherish their freedom and the rule of law. Smith's meticulously researched and passionately argued book is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the threats facing our nation. Republic Under Assault is a call to action. It is a call to defend our republic against the left's relentless assault. It is a call to preserve our freedom and the rule of law for generations to come.
